EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT
AND
STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Election/Restrictions

1. This application is in condition for allowance except for the presence of claims 4 through 9 directed to a species non-elected without traverse. Accordingly, claims 4 through 9 are cancelled below.

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Claims:

Cancel claims 4 through 9.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record neither shows nor suggests all of the elements of claim 1, including "a projection unit", "a storing unit", "a control unit", "an imaging unit", and "an image recording unit", in combination, and particularly:

"a storing unit which stores template image generation data for generating template images that have predetermined content and a blank space to be filled in by a user;

Art Unit: 2862

a control unit which obtains the template image generation data for generating one of the template images from said storing unit, provides generated template image data based on the obtained data to said projection unit, and causes the projection unit to project the template image based on the template image data”.

Claims 2 and 3 are dependent upon claim 1.

The prior art of record neither shows nor suggests all of the elements of claim 10, including “a projection unit”, “a storing unit”, “an imaging unit”, “a command reception unit”, and “ a control unit”, in combination, and particularly:

“a storing unit which stores template image generation data for generating template images that have predetermined content and a blank space to be filled in by a user;”
and

“a control unit which provides the template image generation data for generating one of the template images to said projection unit and causes said projection unit to project the template image to the screen, in accordance with a projection command received by said command reception unit, and controls said imaging unit to capture an image of said screen, in accordance with an imaging command received by said command reception unit.”

Claim 11 is allowable for essentially the same reasons as given with respect to claim 1, however claim 11 includes additional limitations drawn to the storing unit as follows:

“a storing unit which stores data of document images;
and

a control unit which extracts data of said document images from said storing unit, sends the extracted image data to the projection device to be projected to said screen, receives data of an image sent from the projection device, and stores data relating the received image data to data of said document image to said storing unit.”

Each and every limitation of method claim 13 is required to patentably distinguish the claim over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Morichika et al. U.S. Patent Application Publication US 2008/0285878 A1 teaches an image capturing apparatus and method for correcting captured image.

Morichika et al. U.S. Patent 7,412,113 B2 teaches a captured image projection apparatus and captured image correction method.

Boehmer et al. U.S. Patent 7,325,190 B1 teaches an interface system and method of building rules and constraints for a resource scheduling system.

Bergman et al. U.S. Patent 5,909,678 teaches computer systems, method and program fro constructing statements by dragging and dropping iconic representations of subcomponents statements onto a phrase template.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Art Unit: 2862
